Government Acts To Aid Victims Of Drought

PRESIDENT'S PLEDGE GIVEN PRESS TODAY

Thunderstorms Bring Some Relief To Separated Sections

Washington, Aug. 5—(AP)—President Hoover announced today no stone would be left unturned by the government in its efforts to assist in relieving distress caused by the unprecedented drought.

The seriousness of the situation in a wide area east of the Mississippi and in the middle west has been the subject of conferences between Mr. Hoover and Secretary Hyde.

The result was to order a detailed survey made by the Department of Agriculture which will have a report next Monday.

President Hoover in his statement said:

"The drought situation has been the subject of several conferences between Secretary Hyde, Chairman Legge and myself. The Department of Agriculture has undertaken a de-

President Asked To Call For Prayer

Alexandria, Va., Aug. 5—(UP)—President Hoover was asked today to issue a proclamation calling for nationwide prayers for rain. The request was telegraphed to the President by Dan S. Hollenga, business manager of the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce.

Hollenga said that the situation here so serious he had arranged for an airplane to scatter 200 pounds of "rain-making powder" above the city and surrounding country.

talled survey of the situation. They will report next Monday upon the condition in each area in the country.

The information so far indicates great variation in the effect of the drought, both as between states, between counties in those states, and even between farms in the same counties.

Maximum Intensity

"There can be no doubt as to its most serious character in many localities, and that unless relieved there will be real suffering. The maximum intensity seems to lie in a belt roughly following the Potomac, the Ohio, and the Mississippi rivers."

"The measures of assistance that the Farm Board and the other agencies of the Federal government can and should undertake are being determined."

"It is evident already that large measures of feed movement to livestock in the drought areas or movement of animals out of the worst areas will be undertaken later in the fall. It is too early to determine the precise character of relief; much depends upon the further spread of the drought; but no stone will be left unturned by the Federal government in giving assistance to the authorities. I have asked the railways to investigate the situation from a transportation point of view."

RAIN IN SOME PLACES

Chicago, Aug. 5—(UP)—Thunderstorms shot holes in the midwestern neat blanket today but failed to discourage Old Sol in his attempt to set an endurance record for high temperatures.

Sweltering remained general between the Rockies and the eastern seaboard and "not much change in temperature" was the hope for the central states.

"Indications are," said the Chicago Weather Bureau, "for fairly cloudy and somewhat unsettled weather over the north central states tonight and Wednesday, with some possibility of a few widely scattered showers over the corn belt. Temperature changes will not be important."

Then the Weatherman reviewed the 100 degree temperatures of the last 24 hours to show what he meant by no important change.

Some Oddities In Wire News Today From Various Parts

NO WORK; NO BOND

Chicago, Aug. 5—(AP)—Forty young women and the police are looking for George L. Wilson.

Wilson advertised that he needed an assistant in his loop office. Forty young women applied for the position and he "hired" each of them requiring a $5 bond from each to insure appearance the next morning. Yesterday all 40 appeared, more or less on time, to find no Wilson, no work, no bond.

TOO FOND OF PETS

Brooklyn, Aug. 5—(UP)—It wasn't that Flatbush residents objected to cats as pets, Ray Mulligan explained to the Magistrate, but they felt Mrs. Mary Sadler was a trifle too fond of them.

They didn't mind, Mulligan went on, when she devoted her entire 5-room apartment to her 34 cats, providing for herself only a cot to sleep on and an electric refrigerator in which she kept fish and liver for her pets. But the feline yowling at night and Mrs. Sadler's peculiar inflection when she called them to dinner or to bed was just a little too much.

CHURCH UP IN AIR

Glencoe, Ill., Aug. 5—(AP)—The Negro Baptist church of Glencoe is being moved, nobody knows where.

The church has been standing on property owned by the Glencoe Park Commission. Recently the Commission ordered the building moved to another park property and the structure was put on rollers and started on its way. Before it arrived, however, Samuel H. Baker, who lives next door to the proposed new church location, filed an objection in court and obtained an injunction.

Today the church was still out in the street all jacked up but with no place to go.

HARD LUCK FOR TONY

Dunbar, Pa., Aug. 5—(AP)—Tony Dondareno is "broke" today because he tried too hard to find a safe place for his life savings—$297.

His money reposed in a Connellsville bank. Came rumors the bank was "going bust." Tony withdrew his savings. Next the bank closed.

Like his neighbor, Tony hid his savings in a mattress, but the neighbor lost his money when his mattress took fire.

Next Tony tried hiding the money in a tree. A tree nearby was struck by lightning. That was too much for Tony. He decided a bank was the best place after all, he deposited the money in a bank at Vanderbilt, Pa.

ALL IN 12 YEARS

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 5—(UP)—Frank Timm of Odell, who paid the government $65,000 in income taxes 12 years ago was a bankrupt today with liabilities listed at $144,800.

His rise from a farmhand began in 1900 when he purchased a tract of farm land in Iowa with his savings. He later sold the land for $100,000 and bought more in Illinois.

Timm purchased a seat on the Chicago Board of Trade and prospered until 1919, when some of his investments proved worthless. The value of his lands dwindled with the post-war deflation to pay his debts, and he was forced to petition in bankruptcy.

Today Timm is starting all over again.

OIL STATION HELD UP

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 5—(UP)—Two well dressed bandits forced attendant Weisler of a Standard Oil Co. gas station here to lie on the floor while they robbed the station of $50, and escaped.

AGITATION FOR UNIFORMS FOR U. S. DIPLOMATS IS REVIVED: GOLD BRAID TO INDICATE RANK

Washington, Aug. 5—(AP)—Agitation for the splendors and glory of a uniform with plumed hat and sword for American diplomats has again sprung up among foreign service officers.

The discussion was brought about by an article in the American Foreign Service Journal.

Admitting the subject to be a delicate one the Journal merely reprinted without comment correspondence on the question. Time and again in recent years uniforms for service officers have been agitated, but

COMMISSIONS OF LITTLE VALUE IN LOWDEN OPINION

Former Governor Voiced Criticism In An Address Today

Charlottesville, Va., Aug. 5—(U.P.)—Criticism of government commissions was voiced by former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois at the University of Virginia of Politics today. He made no reference to President Hoover's defense of the commissions as an aid to government.

Lowden declared "it is the individual who does things, not a board or a commission."

Lowden explained he was criticizing administrative commissions, not those of quasi-judicial or quasi-legislative nature which he thought might be desirable. Mr. Hoover's partiality is chiefly for fact-finding commissions of a strictly investigative nature.

Lowden said commissions provide easy jobs and are almost impossible to abolish once set up. There are more than forty independent establishments at Washington, he added.

"It is obvious the President can have no knowledge of, much less exercise supervision over, these independent agencies of government," Lowden said.

Law To Themselves

"The commission has come to be a very popular form," Lowden said. "It provided good places for aspirants to office, and, being a law unto itself, the members could attend to their private affairs and give one or two days a month—usually about the same time the public service. When once commissions were created, it was almost impossible to abolish them. There is nothing more difficult in government than to get rid of a lucrative office once established."

"In acquiring the habit of creating a board or commission to take care of government work, we have assumed that if something important was to be done it would be best done by a body of men, and not an individual."

"The fact is—as all who have had experience in business of any kind know—that it is the individual who does things—not a board or commission. There is no commission anywhere, there is no board anywhere, that does things affirmatively unless it is dominated by one man, and the only benefit from the other members is in their benefit from their advisory capacity."

Mrs. Etta Demarest Passed Away Monday

Mrs. Etta Swarts Demarest, widow of the late August B. Demarest, passed away at her home, 916 Hennepin avenue, late yesterday afternoon, her death ending an illness of several weeks duration. Mrs. Demarest was born in Palmyra township, August 15, 1866, and had spent her entire lifetime in this vicinity. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Richard C. Bovey, and two sons, Harry and Albert. Funeral services will be conducted from her home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. Frank Young, pastor of the Presbyterian church officiating and with interment in the Palmyra cemetery. The obituary will be published later.

The members of the Women's Relief Corps are requested to meet at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at G. A. R. hall to attend the funeral.

CAMBRIDGE WOMAN KILLED.

Cambridge, Ill., Aug. 5—(AP)—Mrs. John M. Anderson, 65, was killed by a Rock Island passenger train at a crossing here today. Her husband was killed by a train in the Rock Island yards at Rock Island a year and a half ago.

SAYS CROP LOSS MAY PROVE TO BE BLESSING IN END

Former Asst. Sec. Of Agriculture Sees Settlement Problems

Washington, Aug. 5—(AP)—An ominous note crept today into discussion of reports from the drought-stricken regions of the central and southern states as agricultural interests began seeking relief through government and commercial channels.

Washington was giving thought to the word brought yesterday by Louis J. Taber, Master of the National Grange, that the drought would assume proportions of a major catastrophe unless rain fell within 30 days. Weather maps meanwhile continued to show no indications of permanent relief.

Taber suggested to President Hoover that special low freight rates be made available to move hay and feed into cattle growing regions deprived of their natural pasturage. He urged also a maximum extension of credit facilities. Chairman Legge of the Farm Board asked bankers and business men to extend every credit facility to furnish feed for cattle and dairy herds.

William F. Schilling of the Farm Board said 14 dairy states had only 25 per cent rainfall during the growing months, not only damaging crops, meadows and corn but decreasing milk production.

The states he named included Missouri, Illinois, Iowa and Indiana. Reports from the lower Mississippi valley indicated cotton was suffering badly, while corn was described as shriveled to nothing.

Temperatures had dropped somewhat in the southern plain states and showing forecasts were general for tomorrow for some of the parched area.

FEED WHEAT TO HOGS BY LEO J. RYAN

Chicago, Aug. 5—(AP)—Farmers throughout the grain belt have begun to feed their wheat to the hogs and to cut it for hay, reports to the grain trade here indicated today, and LaSalle street hailed the news as an indication that Old Sol is having his turn at producing some farm relief.

To the offices of the government-sponsored Farmers' National Grain Corporation, came a report that in sections of Montana wheat fields were being bought up to be cut for hay, where the hay fields and pastures have been burned out.

The loss to the corn crop from drought during July has been estimated here by grain brokers at about 400,000,000 bushels.

Arthur Jackson, grain broker, said he was informed by a miller in LaFayette, Ind., that load after load of wheat is being hauled to the mill by farmers, to be ground into hog feed and taken back home.

Nature Settling Problem?

"Nature seems to be settling the farm relief problem," said Bernard Snow, former Assistant United States Secretary of Agriculture. "The tremendous loss of the corn crop during July," he said, "a loss which is still continuing, is likely to prove a blessing in disguise."

Pointing out that the heat and drought were accomplishing "such a reduction of the crop surplus as was proposed by the Federal Farm Board," Snow said that "it looks as though the losses in corn will accomplish the needed readjustment between supply and demand of all products, and incidentally emphasize the fact that acreage is not the only factor to be reckoned with in determining volume of crop production."

Reports from Ohio put the total anticipated loss to all farm crops in that state from the drought at around $200,000,000, or half Ohio farmers' annual income from crops.

Market Took Upturn

The upturn of the wheat market here yesterday was ascribed largely to the growing demand for wheat as a feeding substitute for corn.

"The prospective shortage in corn and shift in price relationships has already turned manufacturers of feed products, and feeders as well, to the use of corn substitutes," Mr. Snow said. "Wheat, oats, rye and barley are being bought in heavy volume for feeding purposes. The short hay crop and the destruction of pastures further forces the substitution of small grains."

"The farm feeding demand bids

KNIGHTSTEMPLAR PLAN TO ATTEND STATE CONCLAVE

Special Train To Take Local Sir Knights To Decatur Meet

The 74th annual Conclave of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Illinois will be held at Decatur on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, September 6th, 7th and 8th, 1930.

Sir Knights of Dixon Commandery No. 21 and their ladies will leave Dixon Sunday morning, September 7th at 7:35 over the Illinois Central railroad by special excursion train and will arrive in Decatur at 11:30 A. M. This train leaves Rockford early Sunday morning and comes to Dixon by way of Freeport. Many of the Commanderies of the Third district will take advantage of this special train which will enable them to make the trip in one day, as the train leaves Decatur at 7:00 Sunday evening on its return.

A special low fare excursion rate has been made by the Illinois Central for the round trip at $3.70. This low fare also includes use of baggage car attached to train.

Special features of Sunday's program at the Conclave will be the parade in which Dixon Commandery headed by the Commandery Drum and Bugle Corps will participate. The parade will form at 1:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon. There will also be the review following the parade and religious and patriotic services at Millikin athletic field. Dixon Commandery's drum and bugle corps has been busy rehearsing and making preparations for furnishing of the field music for the occasion.

On account of the special rate and convenience of making the trip in one day a large delegation from Dixon will attend and Decatur being located in about the central part of the state a large attendance is expected from the 84 constituent Commanderies of the state.

In order to ascertain the number of Sir Knights and Ladies who will go from Dixon, it will be necessary that early reservations be made with Angler W. Wilson, Chairman of Transportation, who will have charge of these matters and the securing of the tickets. Anyone desiring further information concerning this trip will communicate with the Chairman of Transportation or with Grover W. Gehant, Commander.

GEN. MacARTHUR IS MADE CHIEF OF ARMY STAFF

Brilliant Soldier Is Jumped Over Six To High Rank

Washington, Aug. 5—(AP)—Major General MacArthur today was appointed Chief of Staff of the Army by President Hoover succeeding General Charles P. Summerall.

President Hoover said it gave him great pleasure to promote so brilliant a soldier to the position upon the retirement of General Summerall.

The Chief Executive acted upon the recommendation of Secretary Hurley in promoting General MacArthur over major generals who outranked him.

General MacArthur was recently ordered to command the Ninth Corps Area with headquarters at San Francisco. He had been in command of the Philippine Department. He will assume his new duties upon the retirement of General Charles P. Summerall, Nov. 20.

While the new chief of staff is seventh on the list of Major Generals eligible for the post, he is the only ranking officer who can spend the entire four years in the position without having to retire for age. He will not retire until 1944.

President Hoover also appointed Brigadier General Ben H. Fuller Commandant of the Marine Corps, succeeding the late General Wendell C. Neville.

General Fuller became Acting Commandant on the death of General Neville. His experience, rank and his familiarity with the duties of the office were considered factors in his selection. At one time General Fuller was Secretary of State, Police, War, Interior and Navy for Santo Domingo.

He is 60 years of age and a native of Michigan.

Kingsford-Smith Was Under Knife

Middleburg, Holland, Aug. 5—(A.P.)—Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith, famous Australian aviator, rested well today after an emergency operation at Middleburg hospital for acute appendicitis.

Dr. Charles Koch, Dutch surgeon, performed the operation after a diagnosis in which he found the airman, who has been somewhat ill, to be in need of immediate surgical attention.

Kingsford-Smith, who recently completed the second westward crossing by the air of the Atlantic, has been visiting at the home of Hendrik Willem Van Loon, Dutch-American aviator.

Kingsford-Smith was said at the hospital to have passed a good night.

Former Palmyran Died In Delaware

The funeral of Mrs. Katie Fischer, formerly of Palmyra, who died Sunday at her home in Delaware, will be held Wednesday at 2 o'clock at the Palmyra church with interment at the Palmyra cemetery, the Rev. E. C. Harris of Sterling conducting the services. The remains will reach Sterling on the noon train Wednesday and will be taken directly to the Palmyra church, where the funeral will be held. Mrs. Fischer had many friends in Palmyra and Sterling.

$40 CASKET, QUIET FUNERAL, NO FLOWERS FOR JAKE ZUTA, GANG LEADER, HIS ONLY HEIR RULES

Chicago, Aug. 5—(UP)—Underworld associates of Jake Zuta, north side gang leader, were non-plussed today to learn that he will be buried in a $40 casket, without benefit of political or official attendance, in a Kentucky village cemetery.

Zuta, believed by officials to have been the "master mind" in the murder of Alfred J. Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter, met his death Friday night before a crackle of machine gun fire in a dance hall near Delafield, Wis.

From his career as a leader of the "Bugs" Moran-Allelu-Zuta gang, Zuta had reaped a fortune of $500,000 at the time of his death. It was said. But none of the money will be used for a pretentious funeral such as other leaders of Chicago's gangdom have received.

Terse Items of News Gathered in Dixon During Day

COUNCIL TO MEET.
The regular weekly meeting of the city council will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the city hall.

V. & O. STORE MOVED.
Vaile & O'Malley have moved their stock from their former location into their own building which has been entirely overhauled, refurnished and redecorated and are now serving their patrons from the new store.

B-R. STORE CLOSED.
The Boynton-Richards clothing store was closed all day today while the stock was being re-arranged for the sale which was announced in last evening's Telegraph.

PROGRAM CHANGED.
On Wednesday Dr. C. Campbell Morgan will speak at the Rock River Bible Conference at 10:30 A. M. and 3 P. M. instead of at 7:30 P. M. At the latter home the Rev. Alvin E. Bell, D. D., of Toledo, Ohio, will preach. The remainder of the program will be as previously announced.

CONDEMNATION SUITS.
A jury was selected in the county court yesterday afternoon to hear testimony in the condemnation suits filed by the Illinois Northern Utilities Company, in the construction of a new transmission line from Dixon to Freeport through a part of Lee, Ogle and Stephenson counties. Attorneys John P. Devine and Robert Bracken appear for the Utilities interests and Attorney H. C. Warner of this city and Attorney Kirkpatrick of Chicago represent the objectors.

TO PLAY DE KALB.
Dixon Country club golfers, about 40 in number, will motor to DeKalb Thursday to engage in one of the series of inter-club matches with the members of the Kishwaukee club of that city.

The second annual Fathers and Sons tournament at the Dixon Country club will start August 13. This year the entries have been extended to include fathers, sons and daughters and members of any of the clubs in this vicinity may enter the handicap tournament by registering with E. B. Raymond.

TO PROTECT PIERS.

The shore piers of the new Peoria Avenue bridge are to be protected by the driving of a system of piling on both sides of the river, it was decided at a meeting of the city council and county road and bridge committee yesterday afternoon. Piling is to be driven in the river at the corners of both abutment piers to prevent the rip-rap shore line from being washed away at high water stage. Rock will be placed behind the piers for the protection of the banks and work will start on the improvement as soon as the material can be placed on the ground which will probably be within the next ten days.

ACCIDENT IN FRANKLIN.

One side was torn off a Jewett sedan driven by Ressie Utz of Franklin Grove last evening, when Frank Selmi of Rock Falls, driving a Reo truck loaded with produce, attempted to pass the machine, sideswiping it. The accident occurred in Franklin Grove about 10:15 last evening.

COSTLY RINGS OF MRS. PAUL UTLEY STOLEN

Was Held Up At Point of Gun South of City Last Evening

One of the boldest and most daring holdups of the series that have been reported during the past ten days, took place last evening about 8 o'clock on state highway, route 89, one mile south of the city limits. Mrs. Paul Utley being the victim. Four rings valued at $1,000 and about $5 in change were taken at the point of a revolver by a lone bandit.

Mrs. Utley was returning to her home about 8 o'clock and about a mile south of the city limits, observed a large closed car drive alongside without lights. A man described as being short and stocky of build, roughly dressed and wearing a cap drawn down over his eyes, boarded the running board of the Utley car with a drawn revolver. With one blow from the butt of the gun, he crashed the pane of glass in the window on the driver's side.

"Stick 'em up," was his command to Mrs. Utley as he pushed the gun in the window and ordered her to move over to the other side of the seat. He then drove the car east from the route 89 paving to near the Fred Adolph farm, where he stopped the machine beside the road.

Demanded Her Rings.

Seizing her purse, the bandit, emptied it of its contents, taking the money and then tore a small diamond ring from the small finger of her right hand. He then attempted to remove the rings from her left hand, but being unsuccessful, commanded Mrs. Utley to remove the rings. She obeyed his order, turning the rings over to him. He then commanded her to remain in the car at that location for 20 minutes under a threat of being shot, and left the car.

The car, without lights, had followed and was parked on the opposite side of the road. The bandit backed across the road into the waiting machine which sped east to the route 2 paving without turning on the lights. Mrs. Utley remained for several minutes, then drove to her home where she reported the robbery to Sheriff Ward Miller. The sheriff and deputies made a trip over the territory and searched until midnight without securing any trace of the bandit car. The fact that the machine was driven without lights prevented Mrs. Utley from seeing the occupants or the license plates and from securing any description of the machine other than it appeared to be a dark closed car.

The bandit obtained two diamond rings, a wedding ring and a rare Zirkon Chinese ring, which were valued at $1,000. Mrs. Utley suffered a nervous shock from her experience but was able to relate the details of the robbery this morning.

Sterling Men Robbed.

Two Sterling young men, Paul Seix and Fay McKee, were victims of a bold holdup last evening when they stopped their automobile at a NorthWestern crossing near Galt, west of Sterling, to await the passing of a train. As they started up after the train had passed the crossing, a rough appearing man leaped on the running board, flashed a gun in front of them and commanded them to stop.

He robbed them of a small amount of money—all they had with them—and then took their car, which he soon ditched. Posses were organized and gave chase, but the fugitive, fleeing across a field, turned and opened fire on his pursuers, they were abandoned the chase.

Mercury Mounting

From the southern portion of the Great Lakes region westward over Iowa and Nebraska temperatures were moderating slightly. Noon maximum temperatures reported to the United States from widely separated cities showed that in many places, however the temperature was again mounting with the sun.

THOSE MIXED BABIES.

Mr. and Mrs. Bamberger and Mr. and Mrs. Watkins of Chicago wish that there was some way that parents could tell their own children.

They can't do it. And all the king's horses and all the king's men aren't having one-half the luck in helping them solve this baby mixup that King Solomon had when he tried to divide one baby between two women.

Physicians, an ophthalmologist, an obstetrician, an anthropologist, a psychiatrist and some more scientists with names just as long have been in conclave with the two children, trying to decide. Even they can't agree.

You will recall that the mixup started when the Watkins family discovered a piece of adhesive tape bearing the name of Bamberger on the body of the baby whom they had brought home from the hospital. They agreed that the infant they had was a very nice child. Hadn't it almost been theirs? But they preferred to rear their own.

The Bambergers felt the same way about it.

And the hospital thought that maybe the tapes had been mixed.

It really should be simple. There's a perfectly healthy, round, contented baby for each family. The two families could draw lots and probably be far ahead as they are now. Since the children can't tell their own names, and will speak the ones chosen for them, anyway, when they do, they can't help. Nobody would ever know the difference if the wrong lots were drawn. Nobody, not even the parents.

The child which was taken by the Bambergers seems to be claimed by each set of parents regardless of the diversified advice of the sages.

But both families can't have it. Somebody has to accept the other one, and there is sufficient proof that it is bone of the bone and flesh of the flesh of one or the other set of parents.

If it were merely the care of the infant—seeing that it had the proper amount of spinach and orange juice and slept and drank its milk at the regular hours—the problem wouldn't be so important.

But one or the other of the two babies may develop into a prodigy. He may even be president. And so long as there is an uncertainty of parentage, and a belief in heredity, the parents that did not get him would ponder if, perhaps, it wasn't their son who was bringing honor to another family.

Then, too, the children might grow to look like their parents and if they weren't in the right families there would be much disturbance if one father saw the other father walking along the street with a boy who was his own counterpart. A trade at that time might be surer but it would be embarrassing.

Nothing in life is so divinely close to a miracle as the birth of a child, and the realization of its parents that there is something of themselves in this new life. Viewed in that light, the confused attempts to decide to whom the two babies belong assumes an air of tragedy. Each family has a right to its own child, and to the absolute, irrevocable proof that it has its own.

Meantime, the world waits for a greater sage than Solomon to solve this mystery.

TERRORIST IS DEAD.

Gen. Frederick von Bernhardi, influential Prussian militarist before and during the World war, is dead. He died in Berlin, unhonored and all but unnoticed. German newspapers confined their items on his death to a mere line or two. It all means that the exponent of frightfulness had been repudiated, personally and in his policies, by the German nation.

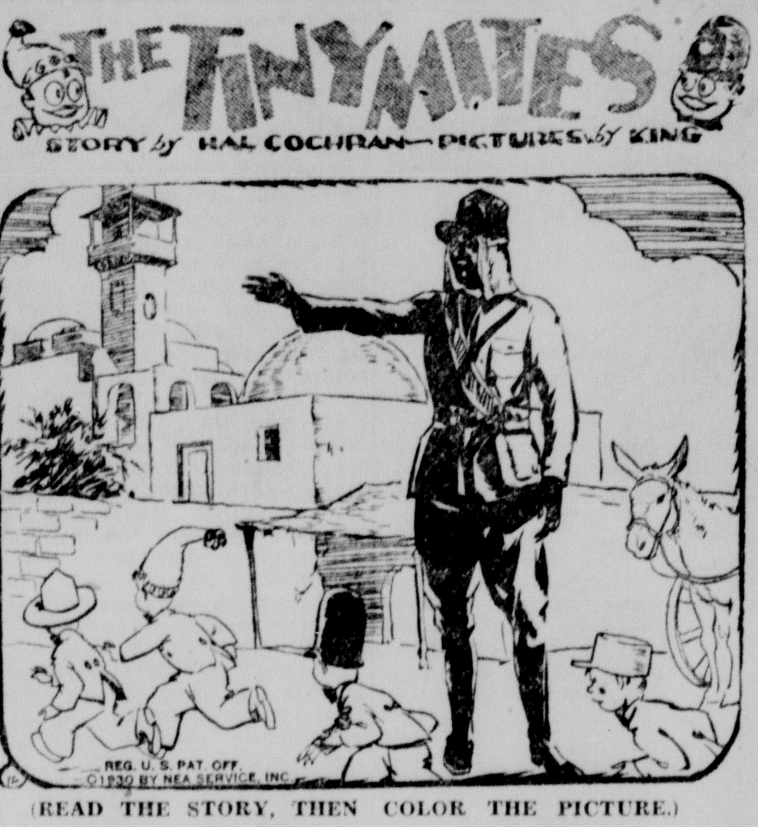

Tritschke, the German historian, was Bernhardi's model. The latter often quoted approvingly the historian's words: "God will see to it that war always recurs as a drastic remedy for the human race."

One of the main reasons for Bernhardi's humiliation was the fact that the policy of frightfulness advocated by him and his associates brought the United States into the conflict. The temporary successes gained by terrorism at Ypres by gas attack and unrestricted warfare at sea were wiped out by the entrance into the conflict of an outraged and superior moral force, the United States, England might never have gone into the war had not Bernhardi's ruthless policy violated the neutrality of Belgium.

Now that the American Dental Association has approved whisky and brandy as medicinal agents in the practice of dentistry, the time is not far distant when the dentist's office will be referred to simply as a filling station.

"It would do no harm," said Ruth Bryan Owen, "if Uncle Sam had a wife." Chances are, however, that Secretary Mellon would prefer a surplus in the treasury.

To many Canadians, the arrival of the R-100, of course, is the dawn of a new century.

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE.

Wee Clowny. "It seems too bad that we are small. I would be glad if we were big enough to smoke. I'd try a water pipe. I wonder if the men would let us look one over. We could get a good idea as to why they say the smoke tastes ripe."

"Why sure!" they will. "I'm sure of that. Just walk right up and tip your hat," replied the kindly Travel Man. "Those men will treat you well." So Clowny did and he was glad cause every single Tiny had a dandy time just listening to what they had to tell.

"These pipes are smoked, lads, as a rule, because the smoke comes out real cool," explained one of the smoking men. "You see it seeps right through the water in the bowl below. Tobacco's up on top, you know." When he had finished Scouty said, "Well many thanks to you."

The Tines then went on their way and nearby found a strange cafe. The tables were outdoors and in the pathway of a breeze. It was a very merry bunch that sat and quietly ate lunch. Said Carpy, "It is fun to sit and eat like this, at ease."

Then, after lunch, to exercise, they walked around with open eyes. Of course they saw a lot of things they never had seen before. The buildings and the people too, were, to the Tynmites, all new. Said Copy, "Gee, you never know what great sights are in store."

And then they reached a busy street. Imagine whom they chanced to meet! It was a stately corner cop, who kept the traffic straight. He'd wave his arms from left to right, which made him quite a busy sight. He motioned to the Tines, so they didn't have to wait.

(The Thymites take another boat trip in the next story.)

BATTLE OF MOBILE BAY

On August 5, 1864, Admiral David G. Farragut began one of the most significant battles of the Civil War when he entered the Bay of Mobile, then the most important port held by the Confederates on the Gulf.

The entrance to the bay was defended by forts on opposite sides, by a thickly rammed line of piles and by a triple line of torpedoes which left only a narrow opening into the harbor. Besides, the Tennessee, a formidable ironclad ram, stood in the way ready to receive the attacking party.

Undaunted by the opposition, Farragut, with a fleet of four ironclads and 15 wooden vessels, fought his way foot by foot into the harbor. After the battle began, Farragut climbed the rigging in order to get above the thickest of the smoke. He was lashed there so that, if wounded, he might not fall to the deck.

After a terrific bombardment, the forts were obliged to surrender to the attack of a land force, and the last important port on the gulf was occupied by Union forces. The victory, which Farragut said was "one of the hardest earned" of his life, cost the Union fleet 335 men. The losses in the Confederate fleet were 10 killed and 16 wounded, and 280 prisoners taken.

Daily Health Talk

FREE AIR
By R. M. FILON, M. D.,
Hartford, Conn.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to prevent unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

This is a sign which we see all over the country at practically every Service Station. It ought to remind us that Air is one of the few things which we use that costs us nothing. Air is a vital necessity to all human beings. Without it we can live but a few moments and since it is on the Free list, there is no reason why each one of us should not have a sufficient supply to keep us healthy and strong. Fortunately we seldom hear of death resulting from a complete shut-off of the air supply, but many illnesses can be traced to neglect in providing ourselves with an adequate amount of Good Fresh Air.

Air lacking in freshness is generally referred to as impure or stale air. The impurity may be due to its having been breathed several times; to dust, smoke fumes, and so forth. This type of air may maintain life, but it certainly is unhealthy. Such conditions, if present, are found inside buildings. The outside air, even in cities and industrial centers, is always fairly good as nature purifies it and keeps it circulating. Every one who has been out in the open spaces of the country will have noted the stimulating effect from the pure air with which he was surrounded. Thus it is that no matter where one lives or works, he may be sure of plenty of good air if he remains outside of buildings. If he must be inside, it is necessary to use some means of changing the air or it soon becomes stagnant and impure and unfit for breathing. Signs of the unhealthy nature of such air will not be long in appearing. Those exposed will feel tired and heavy and lack pep. They will have dull headaches and may feel sick at the stomach. These signs should be regarded as danger signals showing the need for a greater supply of fresh air. If no attention is paid to the signals, people continuing under these undesirable conditions, will grow pale, the quality of the blood will become impaired, there will be loss in weight and strength with increased susceptibility to colds and other minor ailments which are difficult to shake off and may develop into long periods of illness.

If we always remember that whether at work, rest or recreation in buildings, it is necessary to make provision for a supply of fresh air, we may avoid much of the ill effect resulting from lack of ventilation. A properly regulated opening of windows and doors will practically always insure the necessary supply of fresh air. It is a fact that a liberal and constant supply of fresh air during the hours of working and sleeping is one of the greatest of natural elements in promoting health. It is also true that this great nature tonic is free for the taking. Let us, therefore, adopt the following simple measures since they cost us nothing and will lead to increased health and happiness.

1. Spend as much of our spare time as possible out of doors.
2. Take up outdoor recreations and amusements.
3. Walk to and from work where possible. To walk once a day is better than not at all.
4. When outside, breathe deeply and a couple of times each day take several deep breaths, forcing all the air possible out of the lungs and then filling them up with a fresh supply.
5. Keep living rooms at home ventilated through open windows and doors in good weather. In winter or bad weather open the windows several times a day for a few minutes. This will change and freshen the air without causing discomfort.

Keep bedroom windows open all the year around.

7. If an indoor worker try to teach the value of ventilation if there is objection to open windows.

8. When weather permits, get outside at noon.

DO YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?
by EDSON WAITE
Shawnee, Okla.

F. J. BURD, GENERAL MANAGER OF THE VANCOUVER (B. C.) PROVINCE, SAYS:

THAT there are many ways in which a newspaper may contribute to the progress and welfare of its community, but there is none greater than the example of a high code of ethics in its own business dealings and its relations with the public.

Business and journalism are the modern supplements to our educational institutions as the natural mentors of our age. It is incumbent upon each, therefore, to demonstrate the eternal advantage of truth and fair play over all the multitude of substitutes with which the world has ever been confronted.

If a community is to be anything more than an aggregation of houses, office buildings and factories, it must have a foundation in character. Without character it may still multiply and was exceeding great in numbers, but it will never achieve true greatness in the eyes of the world, nor will its people live in happiness or sleep in peace. LAW AND ORDER ARE NOT MERE CIRCUMSTANCES. THEY ARE THE OUTWARD MANIFESTATION OF COMMUNITY CHARACTER, WHICH NEWSPAPERS MAY EITHER STRENGTHEN OR WEAKEN, ACCORDING TO THE CHARACTER WITH WHICH THEY ARE THEMSELVES ENDOWED.

COMPTON NEWS

COMPTON—Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Chion, and daughter Marjorie and Beatrice and also Miss Ida Longhene motored to Chicago during the past week, where Mr. Chion did considerable buying of his fall stock of goods. Mr. Chion's three sons, managed the store during his absence.

Mr. and Mrs. V. J. McDougall of Arlington Heights, two daughters Mrs. Arthur Mueller, Mrs. Herbert Miller and husbands, were guests of their son, Lloyd McDougall for over Saturday and Sunday.

L. M. Corwin and family, will enjoy two weeks vacation from his duties as cashier of First National bank here, at Deer Lodge, Mercer, Wisconsin. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Stein will accompany them on the vacation trip.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Hills will take a few days vacation with their daughter, Mrs. Robert Campbell and husband of Chicago, at Sturgis, Michigan.

Miss Leota Archer had her tonsils removed at the hospital during the week.

Don Archer of Chicago visited over Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. St. Archer.

Ed Whittell has recovered from the severe burns, which will permit him to be removed to his home near Scarborough, early this week.

Margaret Kesler oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kesler, had her hand badly mangled when she caught it in a electric planer, at her father's wood-working shop, early Saturday morning.

Rev. Warren Hutchinson and family are enjoying his annual vacation in Wisconsin. During Rev. Hutchinson's vacation there will be no Sunday morning services. Sunday school at the usual hours.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Thompson have arrived home from Peoria, where they have been attending summer school at Bradley.

A house and one or two out-buildings, is all that is left of the C. L. Holden farm buildings, as a result of fire which occurred early Saturday evening. The fire started in the barn and as observed by a neighbor, a streak of fire was sent fifty feet into the air, following an explosion from the structure that held 55 tons of newly made hay. Jake Jacobs who tenants the farm, was not at home, but lucky his wife and children were there to witness the outbreak of the fire. Mrs. Jacobs rushed to the barn and released the livestock and drove them into a pasture. So intense was the heat that the large crowd that was attracted to the scene of fire, had all they wanted to do to keep the house, which is a two story modern structure, from burning. Also the flames threatened the hay of Floyd Irwins, which lies directly across the road from the Holden farm, and it required some time before this could be controlled. The place is tenanted by Jake Jacobs, who had left after supper for Mendota, and when he returned a few hours later, found that the 35 tons of hay that he had so earnestly labored to harvest and also 155 bushels of corn was lost by the fire. All the household goods was carried out of the house, when the heat from the burning barn caused the house to be threatened. Luckily for Mr. Jacobs that he did not thresh, as the machine was in the yard, but due to the fact it was Saturday they did not start the job, as they had just completed a neighbors job, in the middle of the afternoon. Friends of Mr. Jacobs have made up a purse, which they will present to him to help cover the loss.

INDEPENDENTS, CRIPPLED, ARE BEATEN SUNDAY

Freeport Victorious In A Game Featured By Errors And Hitting

The Dixon Independents minus two of the regulars who were sick, were defeated by Freeport Sunday afternoon by a score of 11 to 9 in a game which featured errors and free hitting. Monte Weeks, catcher for the Independents featured in the hitting with two home runs in the first two trips to the plate with Prestegard one base ahead of him on both occasions. Both were hard hit line drives in both right and left field. On his third trip to the plate, Weeks was forced out of the game when he was hit in the head by a pitched ball.

Aurand, Freeport also hit two balls over the fence. Next Sunday the Kewanee Independents will meet Dixon on the Independent field and it is expected that the entire local lineup will be in the game. The score:

Brooklyn Robins in the National circuit. The club also has narrowed down the Cubs' advantage over their New York rivals, the difference today being just one and one-half games.

The Giants furnished a good example of why they are pennant contenders yesterday when they defeated the Robins 4 to 0. There was not much difference between the pitching of Fred Fitzsimmons and Watson Clark of the Robins in so far as number of hits were concerned. The Giants got nine and Brooklyn six but three of New York's total were of the home run variety.

In the only other National League game on the books the Boston Braves managed to eke out a 3 to 2 decision over the Phillies.

The pennant chase in the American League saw the Athletics take advantage of the idleness of the Yankees and Senators to gain a half game with a 13 to 4 triumph over the Boston Sox.

Charlie Gehring was the whole show at Detroit as the Tigers took a 12-inning pitching duel from the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 3. His home run in the twelfth with the bases loaded gave Vic Sorrell the best of the hurling argument with Ted Lyons. He hit another homer in the third with one man on.

Coming from behind in the ninth with a three-run rally, the Cleveland Indians defeated the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 2. It was Wesley Ferrell's eighteenth mound triumph of the season.

Weight Big Issue In Thursday Bout

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
New York, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The question of weight, considered a big factor in Sammy Mandell's recent knockout defeat at the hands of Al Singer, has bobbed up again to complicate the arguments over Kid Chocolate's ten round joist with Jack (Kid) Berg at the Polo Grounds on Thursday night.

In Mandell's case the question was whether Mandell could make the lightweight limit without appreciably weakening himself. In Chocolate's, it's whether the flashy Cuban Negro featherweight can afford to give away eight or ten pounds to a human windmill like Berg. Mandell failed, whether because of the weight no one can tell, and the gambling fraternity is willing to wager 6 to 5 that Chocolate will fail too.

In his own division—for the Cuban is a natural featherweight—Chocolate has been invincible. He whipped Singer at 126 pounds and waded through an imposing list of other high-class featherweights.

But in Berg, now a lightweight he will be meeting another great fighter and one to whom he will have to concede a big bundle of weight that he can't cast the deciding vote in the ten round struggle.

Berg has won the big majority of his fights simply because the other fellow was too busy defending himself to do any attacking. With such an advantage in the weights as Berg will enjoy, few of the experts believe Chocolate can win except by a knockout.

The bout is expected to draw a crowd of some 25,000 with a "gate" of about $200,000.

Gar Wood To Build New Cup Defender

Detroit, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Gar Wood, king of American speed boating and successful defender of the Harmsworth Trophy against foreign invasion since 1920, will launch a new boat—the Miss America IX—within two weeks. He believes that his new craft will be the first ever to do 100 miles an hour.

Wood decided to build the Miss America IX after visiting Gravenhurst, Ont. last week and witnessing trial runs of Estelle IV and Estelle V, with which Miss Marion Barbara Carstairs, English sportswoman, will challenge for the Harmsworth Trophy at Detroit August 30.

Wood said he expected to announce plans for the Miss America IX at a meeting of the Gold Cup

29 Yearlings On Sale At Saratoga

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Twenty-nine yearlings will go on the block in the opening of the famous Saratoga Sales tonight.

Edward B. McLean, Washington owner and breeder, will offer 19 head. A consignment of ten also will be offered by the Shenandoah Stud of E. B. Jacobs, Virginia breeder.

Sales during the three-week session are not expected to reach the grand total of $1,878,090 of last year when the high average price of $3,640 per head was made. Principal interest probably will attach to a number of colts sired by Sir Gallahad 3rd, daddy of Gallant Fox, the season's three-year-old sensation.

More than 50 planes will tour Oregon, Washington and Idaho, visiting more than 25 cities, in the first annual tri-state air jaunt.

"GLY-CAS ACTUALLY DOES ALL THAT IS CLAIMED FOR IT"

Lady's Stubborn Stomach and Kidney Trouble Quickly Conquered—Other Medicines Flatly Failed in Her Case.

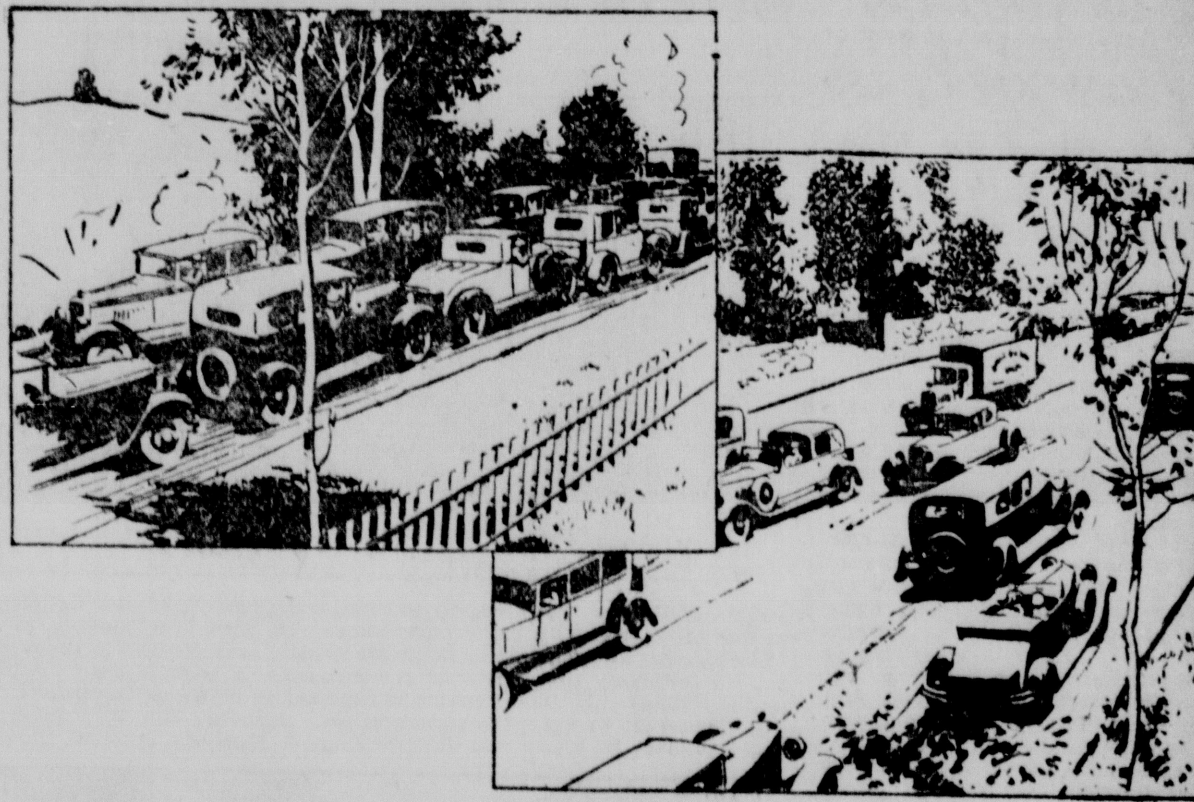

"Gly-Cas did more for me than all the other medicines I had ever taken," said Miss Mary Farney, R. R. No. 2, Minneola, Kansas.

MISS MARY FARNEY.

"I am glad to recommend Gly-Cas as the one medicine that actually does all that is claimed for it," she continued. "For the past ten years I had been out of order, gas formed and caused me such misery. My kidneys and bladder were out of order, too, had to get up five and six times each night and suffered from a severe pain in my back, could not sleep, was tired and worn-out all of the time. Medicines did not seem to do me any good until I began taking Gly-Cas. I begin to get better from the very first dose, now I eat most anything without any effects, no longer troubled with gas, sleepless nights, that pain in my back has vanished and my kidneys and bladder are normal. I really feel fine again. Gly-Cas made new health for me and I feel all sufferers should know of this remarkable remedy."

Gly-Cas is sold in Dixon at the Campbell White Cross Pharmacy; W. J. Long, West Brooklyn; Franklin Grove, G. S. Ives; Polo, C. R. Clothier; Ashton, G. R. Charters; Amboy, Aschenbrenner Drug; Compton, W. H. Hills, Rochelle, Barker & Sullivan, and by leading druggists in all surrounding towns—Adv.

Motor in Comfort and Safety on Wider Roads

Wider roads will make your Sunday and holiday driving more pleasant. With the building of such roads you can revive the old Sunday jaunt. The city man can take his family out into the country; the motorist from the small town or country can drive to the cities. And driving with forty foot roads will be safe and comfortable.

The Chicago Motor Club has been campaigning for years in behalf of forty foot roads in congested areas. By 1933, we suggest, forty foot roads be built to such terminals as Freeport, Sterling, Mendota, Peoria, Springfield, Champaign and Urbana, Danville, and the state line on the north.

Your support of the club plan will assure its success. Add your support to that of the 100,000 members of the club. In addition to civic work in behalf of the entire motoring public, the club renders special services available to members. A few of these services are:

Free mechanical first aid and towing service at any hour of the day or night.

Travel service, which provides you with maps, logs and the most complete and up to the minute advice on road conditions.

Bail bond service, which guarantees your appearance in traffic violation cases, where a bond not in excess of $100 is demanded.

Accident prevention work, which seeks to cut accidents, especially among school children, by means of safety posters and by fostering school boy patrols.

Home district service, which attends to special conditions around your home, such as seeing to it that refuse is promptly removed.

Insurance service, which provides the following features: The valued form policy, which in the event of total loss, pays the face value of the policy. Accessories are covered without additional charge. Last year the "exchange" returned cash savings to subscribers amounting to $711,332.11. Automobile insurance sales amounted to $3,894,706.04.

DIXON YOUTH IS MEMBER VARSITY GEOLOGY CLASS

W. K. Finefield Making Tour with Teachers In Northwest

W. K. Finefield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Finefield of the Hotel Dixon, left Monday morning for Evanston to join the Geological class of Northwestern University which is made up of thirty students, cooks, guides, etc. The class will be accompanied by Prof. U. S. Grant and Prof. J. T. Stark of Northwestern University and Prof. Glenn H. Peebles, University of Minnesota.

Prof. Stark and Peebles, J. Gordon Atwood of Oak Park, student, Raymond G. Sullivan of Chicago, student, and Mr. Finefield left Evanston Monday night as an advance guard and will establish a camp on Lake Kikikicquie for the class and Prof. Grant upon their arrival, Aug. 11th. This trip is what is known as the Annual Field Course of the Lake Superior regions and will take them through the National Forest preserves and the Canadian Quetico Forest Preserves.

Before going into the wilderness known as the Arrow Head country side trips will be made over the iron range from Hibbing to Ely. The trip from Ely into Canada and return will take the party through Lakes Burnside, Knife, Otter, Trout, Grant, Saginaw, Sea Gull, Ojiska, Muncie, Kakagubie, Prairie Portage and will cover a four weeks' canoe trip.

This is an annual affair of the Northwestern University course in geology and the time will be taken up with the studying of geology and map making of the country thereabouts.

The party will return to Evanston on Sept. 15th, at which time Mr. Finefield will enter into his senior year at the University.

FATE OF MOONEY AND BILLINGS RESTS WITH THIS COURT

Eyes of the world are focused on these seven justices of the California supreme court in whose hands rest the fate of Warren K. Billings, labor leader who, with Tom Mooney, is serving a prison sentence for the 1916 Preparedness Day bombings. John MacDonald, key witness in the case, appeared before the court and declared that his testimony that convicted the men was "a pack of lies." Although the justices are considering a pardon for Billings only, their decision is expected to influence Governor C. C. Young regarding freedom for Mooney as well. Left to right, the picture shows: Justices John W. Preston, John W. Shenk, Emmet Seawell, Chief Justice William H. Waste and Justices John E. Richards, Jesse W. Curtis and William H. Langdon.

Plainly nervous and broken in health MacDonald, center, is shown here with his attorneys, Charles Ruzicka, left, and Hilary W. Gans, right, as they arrived at the State House at Sacramento to appear before the state supreme court.

OBITUARY

MRS. RAY STROCK. (Contributed)

Edna M. Miller, daughter of Albert O. and Emily Miller was born at Wellsville, New York, Nov. 6, 1883, and passed away at the Dixon public hospital July 29, 1930, aged 46 years, eight months and 23 days. On Oct. 24, 1905, she was united in marriage to Ray L. Strock of Polo, Ill. Four children were born to this union, Keith Stewart, Burton William, Mrs. Dorothy Sawyer and Margaret Alice, who with their father survive and mourn the loss of a most kind and loving wife and mother.

The family moved to Dixon in 1927 and she transferred her church membership to the Grace Evangelical church and was a most earnest and active worker in all of its departments. The church and the community feel the loss of so loyal a Christian worker and friends. Burial was in Fairmount cemetery near Polo.

Irish Tennis Ace Didn't Last Long

Southampton, N. Y., Aug. 5.—(AP)—The first American singles appearance of G. Lytleton Rogers, giant Irish tennis ace, has been extremely brief.

The six-foot seven-inch player was eliminated in the first round of the Southampton Invitation tournament yesterday by little Marcel Rainville of Montreal, Canadian Davis Cup ace.

The thirty survivors after yesterday's competition were to be joined today by three members of the American Davis Cup squad, George Lott, Wilmer Allison and Berkeley Bell.

Aside from Rogers' defeat, play followed from rather closely. Frank Hunter, New Rochelle, Sydney Wood, 18-year-old winner of the Seabright Bowl, Wilbur F. Coen, Jr., of Kansas City, Richard N. Williams of Philadelphia, and Frank Shields, New York, all advanced without trouble. Bryant Grant of Atlanta, smallest player in the tournament, defeated Armand Bruneau of New York in three sets, 2-6, 6-1, 8-6.

Silver foxes and other fur-bearing animals are now bred for their skins on more than 500 farms in Germany.

What Guardsmen From Dixon Find To Do; Camp Grant

(Telegraph Special Service)

Camp Grant, Ill., Aug. 3.—After attempting to sleep Friday night in the Armory, Company A boarded a Northwestern special train at Dixon Saturday morning bound for Camp Grant near Rockford for the annual encampment and drill course. We are rived in camp at 10:30 and set to work at once establishing our camp. We worked all day in the hot sun striking the tents and getting the company street in condition for the camp period and the many inspections. Everyone raised a crop of blisters and callouses. Robert Schifley claims to have established a record in a company for having driven the most tent stakes in a single day. We put up 12 large tents requiring 56 stakes each. Two smaller Officers' tents were also set up at one end of the street.

There is no end to the claims for records in camp. Every private disputes Schifley's claim to the stake driving championship every other private claiming the same honor. Lindel "Crickets" Miller thinks that his feet are the sorest of any soldier in the entire camp and even his claim is loudly disputed.

Sunday saw no activity in the camp. Everyone rested and it was so hot that those who did stir were either on their to or from the shower baths.

We are all looking forward to the coming week and the program of activity that it will bring for us. We know that we are to have drills of various kinds, practice on the rifle ranges and plenty of work ahead of us for the next week or ten days.

Some of the "rookies" are experiencing quite a thrill in their first days of camp life. We are all hoping that the weather cools before we are taken out on the dusty parade ground to practice maneuvers and manual of arms.

Francis Cashion, Co. A, 129th Inf.

Early Purchase Of Range Is Expected

Camp Grant, Ill., Aug. 3.—(UP)—The early purchase of the site for the proposed artillery range authorized by the General Assembly, was foreseen today by Brig. Gen. Frank R. Schwengel of the Board appointed by Governor Emmerson to recommend a site.

After a meeting of the board O. and Emily Miller was born at Wellsville, New York, Nov. 6, 1883, and passed away at the Dixon public hospital July 29, 1930, aged 46 years, eight months and 23 days. Third State Bank In Negro Dist. Closed

Chicago, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The Citizens Trust & Savings Bank was closed by the State Auditor today following a run on the bank during which $500,000 in deposits were withdrawn. This bank is the third south side bank closed during the last week.

The Citizens bank is located at 55th and South State, at the edge of the Negro district. The first bank to close was the Bonga State, with deposits of more than $1,200,000 among the Negroes. The second was the Roosevelt State, which also had deposits of more than $1,000,000, much of it Negro savings. The Roosevelt State was closed due to a cash shortage caused by heavy withdrawals after the Bonga bank was closed.

The Citizens Bank was capitalized at $200,000 and had deposits of about $1,000,000.

Levine Knocks Out Foe In 15 Seconds

New York, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Bennie Levine of Newark has set a new record for quick knockouts in New Jersey. Levine stopped Tony Lambert of Newark in 15 seconds of the first round here last night. The previous record was held by Jack Dempsey who knocked out Fred Fulton at Harrison Field in 17 seconds more than a decade ago.

The Hollywood Story

COPYRIGHT 1930 by NEA SERVICE Inc.

by ERNEST LYNN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DAN RORIMER, former New York newspaper man, who is now writing scenarios for Continental Pictures in Hollywood, gets a letter from an old friend in New York, telling him to look up a girl named ANNE WINTER, who has come from Tulsa, Okla., to "crash the picture."

Dan complies reluctantly, but Anne proves to be charming. She has had stage experience—in stock companies. Anne gathers that he is a little disatisfied with things at Continental. For one thing, he thinks they have miscast the star whom they select to play in the picture that is to be made from a story he had written before coming to Hollywood.

The following Monday rehearsal begins on his picture. That evening he learns that Anne is to work the following morning. During the second time she has found extra employment. After her first day at Grand United studios, Dan takes Anne for a ride to the beach. There she tells him she has met a likable girl, also an extra, and she is thinking of living with this girl and her present apartment mate, whom Anne has not yet met. The girl's name is NOVA MOOREHEAD; her friends, EVA HARLEY.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VII

ANNE let his arm stay where it was, appeared not to notice it. Even. But a moment or two later, when Rorimer tried to draw her toward him, he encountered firm resistance, and Anne said, "Hadden't we better start back? What time is it?"

"Oh, I keep my promises; I'll get you back by ten," he replied. "It's no more than nine now."

"I didn't see you look at your watch."

Dan brought up his wrist, squinted in the semidarkness. "Well, then, 9:15," he admitted, grinning. "What's 15 minutes?" And he added, "On a night like this?"

Anne Winter smiled at him. "Romantic Uncle Dan!" she jeered softly.

"Yeah? Forget that, young lady; I'm not your uncle."

"You were a few minutes ago."

"But I don't feel so—so avuncular now; or platonic, either, for that matter."

Anne dropped the subject; and Rorimer, feeling her impersonal dismissal of it, fell silent. He offered her a cigaret, and this time she took one.

Leaning back in his seat, he regarded her through half-closed eyes and wondered if she had even given a man her love. Certainly, he thought in admiring approval of her, there must have been many who had tried to win it. Perhaps there was a young man back in Tulsa; and if there was, Dan was thinking, he was plenty lucky.

He began presently to whistle softly, but thinking of something else, checked himself and urged: "Sing for me, Anne."

"Sing for you?" she repeated, regarding him curiously. "Why?"

"Because I like to hear you sing."

"Sing that thing I was trying to whistle."

"Why was I born?" But that's so plaintive and so forlorn.

"That's just the way I feel, some how. Does the ocean at night affect you that way?"

It did, she agreed. "I feel a little homesick."

DAN said he had been away from his family too long to know homesickness again, but that he felt a longing, and a curious alone-ness that was hard to explain. He started the car, backed it onto the road, and headed it up the grade, and rolling back toward Hollywood, with the ocean behind them, Anne leaned back in the seat and began to sing:

"I hope you won't do that again," Anne said.

"Why was I born? Why am I living?"

What do I get? What am I giving?"

Why do I want a thing I don't hope for?"

What can I hope for? I wish I knew."

Plaintive . . . forlorn . . . the song of a lonely heart. And Anne's voice, low and sweet and tremulously exciting, carrying right into his blood. . . .

"Why do I try to draw you near me?"

Why do I cry—you never hear me."

I'm a poor fool, but what can I do?"

"Why was I born to love you?"

The wind rushed past them, whipping at his hair before it fled, carrying the last echoes of her song with it. Dan felt contentment—a contentment curiously mixed with the stirrings of voiceless longing and unrest.

Why do I want the things I don't hope for?"

That was the thing that life was lived for, he told himself—to want the things one doesn't hope for. Only, you did hope for them some how, no matter how forlornly, even if they were way off somewhere beyond the frozen stars.

"Sing some more, Anne. Sing to me again."

"Do you like to be sung to?"

He said simply, staring straight ahead. "I love to hear you sing."

And Anne turned on him a curling smile at the strange emphasis in his voice; but he was still looking away and missed it.

She began:

"I'm a dreamer—aren't we all? Just a dreamer—aren't we all?"

and sang it through to the end. And not once did Rorimer turn his eyes from the roadway ahead of them. He was thinking that he had heard a voice like hers before, over the radio. A contralto who sang ballads and "blues" with a smooth ease and lowness that made you shut your eyes and imagine things. Only, Anne's singing was not so trained; not so professional. It had, he thought, striving for the right word, an uncaptured quality in it that left him a little shaken.

At the end of her song he turned to look at her. She sat still beside him, her head back against the cushioned seat, eyes half-closed. "If she gets a break," he said to himself, "she'll go a long way."

Provided, of course, the camera and the microphone did not do strange things to her; that had been known to happen.

THEY were on her street now, and when he stopped the car in front of her apartment he asked if he might pick her up again in the morning and take her to the Grand United lot.

"It's no trouble, Anne, and you can sleep longer if you don't have to wait for a bus."

"All right, Dan; you're certainly kind."

He walked down the hallway with her, and when they stopped at her door he showed her the time. "See, Anne? Only four minutes of ten. Am I a mar of my word or not?"

"You're just marvelous," she said laughing, and gave him her hand. And Dan suddenly drew her to him and kissed her.

Just as suddenly he knew he had done the wrong thing. Anne was not angry; he would have felt better if she had shown her anger. But she was plainly hurt, and he said contritely, "I'm sorry, Anne. I hope you won't do that again."

Anne said, "The dark eyes were level and calm enough, but bright spots flamed in her cheeks."

Dan said again, "I'm sorry, Anne. I'll remember."

He added that he hoped he hadn't made her change her mind about riding with him in the morning.

"You can at least trust me in the day time," he said with a lame little laugh.

Anne's faint smile heartened him. "You said you'd remember," she said, "and you're a man of your word. . . . Good night."

"Good night, Anne. You're a good sport."

. . . A darned good sport, he thought, climbing into his car.

"Why was I born? Why am I living?"

He drove to Henry's, and there he found Johnny Riddle, sitting alone over coffee and a sandwich. Johnny said, "Hello, stranger. Who was the lady I saw you with the other night? That wasn't no lady; that was my — Who was she, Dan? And what did you do with the little O'Neil girl—little Millie?"

Dan said, studying his menu: "Millie's a blond."

"Not a real one; Millie bleached her hair because it photographs better."

"Are there any real blonds?" Dan asked, his eyes still on the card.

"What a cynical young man you turned out to be! Why, of course! See the lady over there, for instance? Over there to your left—in the corner. There's a blond—and how! That's Sylvia Patterson."

Dan swung around in his chair and stared brazenly.

"So that's Sylvia," he said. "Is that hair real?"

"Absolutely. Of course, she probably sees to it that it doesn't get any darker."

"That man with her?" Dan said with sudden interest; "is that Garry Sloan?"

"That's Garry."

RORIMER found occasion from time to time to look at Sloan. He was big and bronzed and powerful looking, and he had a vast mop of wavy yellow-brown hair—hair, Dan thought, that suggested an intense vitality.

Johnny Riddle was one of Hollywood's better gleaners of gossip. Paul Collier, when he had brought the two together, had informed Dan that "Hollywood hides no secrets from little Johnny." Riddle was medium-sized and compact looking, and he had laughing gray eyes, and hair that kept falling down over his forehead into one eye.

When the waitress departed with Rorimer's order Johnny Riddle leaned across the table to say that he had heard Sloan's wife was divorcing him.

"Can't say that I blame her," Dan remarked. "If some of the tales about Sloan are true. What's he going to do—marry Sylvia Patterson?"

Johnny Riddle shrugged.

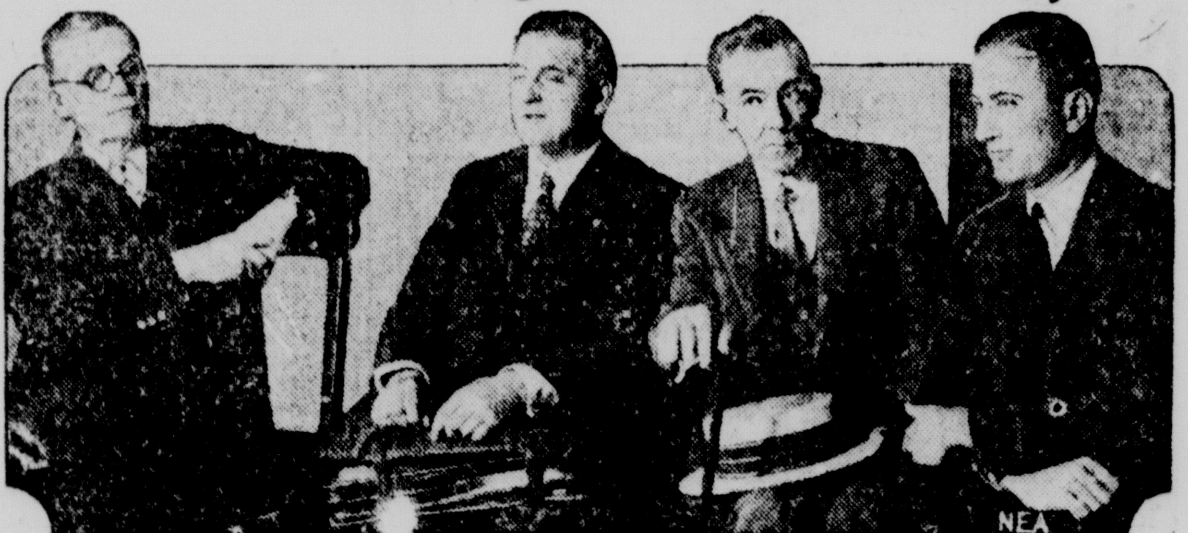

"Is Sloan in love with her?" Dan asked.

Riddle said, "Sloan's in love with himself, and that's why he expects every woman he meets to be crazy about him. . . . But he's one swell director!"

"Is Sylvia crazy about him?" Dan pursued, and Riddle said he didn't think so. "Sylvia's a swell girl, Dan; but Sylvia is ambitious—and she can be diplomatic."

As MacDonald Began Battle to Free Mooney

John MacDonald, long-sought witness in the famous Mooney-Billings case in California, is shown here waiting in the office of Governor C. C. Young for the hearing that resulted in announcement that the supreme court would re-open the case, to hear MacDonald's reputation of testimony that helped convict the prisoners. Left to right are: Frank P. Walsh, attorney for the Mooney defense committee; Charles Ruzicka, Baltimore attorney; MacDonald, and Hilary W. Gans, another Baltimore lawyer. Ruzicka and Gans are attorneys for MacDonald.

Contract For New Dirigible Stands

Washington, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Secretary Adams said today the contract had not been cancelled for the ZRS-5, second of the two dirigibles ordered from the Goodyear-Zeppelin Company of Akron, Ohio by the Navy Department.

The Secretary said there was no basis of fact in the report the Navy Department had cancelled the contract.

"Of course," he remarked. "As long as there is an option as to whether we may or may not build the second ship, there will be speculation on our position."

New Gold Rush Is On In Australia

Bendigo, Australia, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Discovery of a 30 ounce gold nugget at Tarnagulla, Victoria, 40 miles from here, started a new gold rush.

More than 250 prospectors most of them driving highpowered American cars, have already reached the field and pegged out claims.

St. Louis Plane Has 200 Hours Yet To Go

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brien today had less than 200 hours to go to better the world's record for refueling endurance flying set last month at Chicago by the Hunter brothers with a sustained flight of approximately 534 hours.

At 8:11 a. m. C. S. T. today Jackson and O'Brien had been up 361 hours in their monoplane Greater St. Louis and were still going strong.

Over the radio yesterday O'Brien repeated the fliers' intention of remaining up a month and added that this would be his last endurance flight.

Coast Guardsman Shot By Comrades

Boston, Mass., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Boatswain Lewis E. Pratt, of the Salisbury Beach Coast Guard station was fatally wounded by bullets from another Coast Guard boat out of Gloucester, last night, when his surf boat was mistaken for a rum runner near the mouth of Ipswich river, Ipswich, Mass. Early reports had indicated that the shots were fired from a rum vessel.

Corns All Gone Big and Small Radox Took Them Roots and All

In England they have a sensible easy way to get rid of corns in just a few days—a joyous invigorating foot bath every night for 3 or 4 nights—then lift out the corn—out to stay.

Ask Sterling's Pharmacy drug store for a package of Radox, first time on sale in America. Hard corns—soft corns—callouses—hard skin on heels and toes—it's all the same to Radox—you'll have new, strong, flawless feet a week from now—ask for Radox—and enjoy walking—dancing—Adv.

In the Matrimonial Spotlight

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below—and unscramble it, by switching the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for the word if you unscramble it. Tomorrow we'll explain the mistake and tell you the word. Then you can see how near a hundred you beat.

MONDAY'S CORRECTIONS

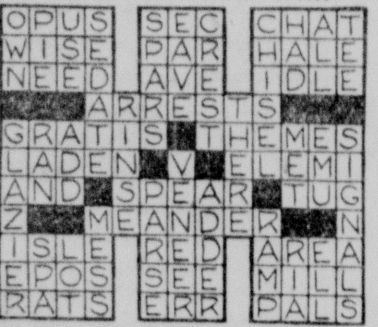

(1) Mount Rushmore is in the Black Hills of South Dakota, instead of North Dakota. (2) Hamilton was not a president. In his place the man should say Jefferson, as he is one of the four presidents in the group. (3) Instead of Coolidge, Roosevelt is to be the fourth. (4) Ex-President Coolidge not President Hoover, is writing the historical text. (5) The scrambled word is CHIMNEY.

YESTERDAY'S ANSWER

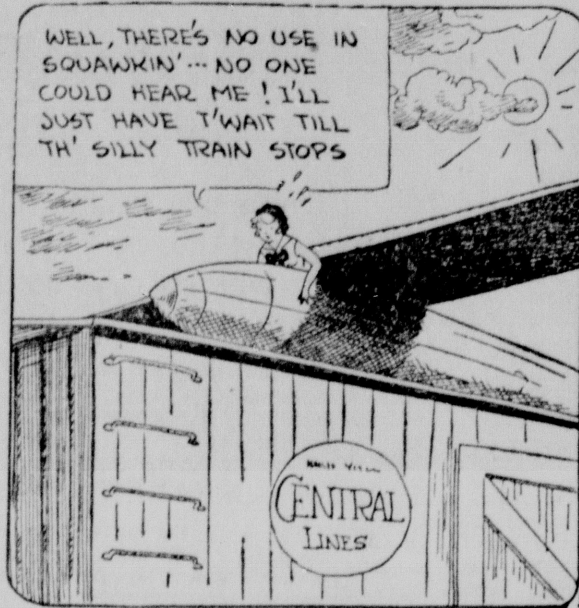

"Flying Barrel" Ready for Tests

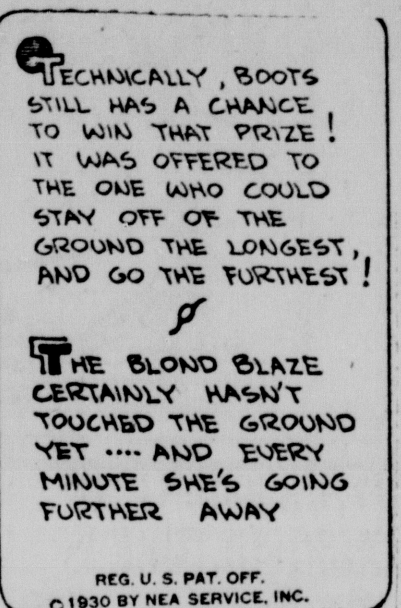

A "comet ship" is the name that has been given to this revolutionary type of plane, pictured here as it awaited its first tests at East Berlin, N. J. Its builders claim the craft will travel 300 miles an hour in the air and they expect to fly from New York to Berlin in 12 hours. Air is sucked into one end of the barrel-shaped plane by the four-bladed propeller of a 60-horsepower motor, and expelled at the other end. Once aloft, the craft will depend on a set of stub airfoils on the forward end will be steered by elevators in the tail. Note the enclosed cockpit. The craft has been made to come down on either land or water, and because of its wingspread, it can be stored in an ordinary garage or taxied along a highway.

CONFERENCE OF BIBLE STUDENTS OPENED SUNDAY

Good Attendance Marks First Sessions Of Annual Meeting

Contributed

With the thermometer hovering about the 100 mark, the Rock River Bible Conference opened Sunday at Assembly Park Auditorium with the President, the Rev. W. W. Marshall as master of ceremonies. In his usual genial manner Mr. Marshall injects considerable of humor into the routine of his duties, which provokes good feeling and interest. He deserves much credit for the careful manner with which he has handled the numerous details of the conference.

At 2 P. M., Miss Grace Saxe, who was for years associated with Rev. William A. Sunday as teacher of large Bible Classes, gave her opening lecture on the Bible. With the aid of large charts she gave a sweeping view of the great eras of world history comprehended within the compass of the Bible. She presents her subject clearly, interestingly and forcefully. After Mohday she will speak at 2 P. M. each day.

The 3 P. M. service was opened with a brief song service led by Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Kindig whose work as song leaders is well known to Dixon folks. They both appeared to be at their best yesterday and hope to be with the Conference for the week. At 2 o'clock each day they will conduct meetings for boys and girls. Parents will you not encourage your children to attend these fine and interesting meetings?

The Rev. Otto F. Bartholow, Ph. D., D. D., Pastor of the Mt. Vernon M. E. Church of New York, was the speaker of the afternoon and evening. Altho he was a substitute for Dr. Marvin Dean, his messages were of the highest quality in thought, vigor of presentation, interest and inspiration.

"Since this is the 1900th anniversary of Pentecost I desire to speak about the Holy Spirit. Of course He has always been with God's people but at Pentecost he came in his full, plenary coming."

"I wonder if God is not going to test out this country? We have had many prosperous years, very prosperous ears. Now What? Are we going to have the 7 years of poverty? This drought over the great Mississippi valley may be exceedingly serious for the country and the great cities in the winter to come. Have we prayed for rain? Put up your hand, all who have prayed for rain. Don't we believe in prayer? There has been a war on prayer. Some say that it only has a psychological effect on the one praying. Let your supplications be made known unto God. We haven't prayed for rain. Why? We may be a theoretical believer but a practical atheist."

Thousands and millions don't know what we mean by the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit is a person. "When He the Holy Spirit is come, ye shall receive power." In the Epistle to the Ephesians God is called more names than in any other epistle. Here we have exalted ethics and practical thought. "Grieve not the Holy Spirit." Eph. 4:30. You can't grieve an "it", or a principle. You can grieve your mother.

The Holy Spirit descended in the form of a dove on Jesus at his baptism. I love to think of Him coming in the form of a dove. A dove is a most sensitive bird. The Holy Spirit senses sin in our lives and will not stay where sin is.

My text is "Whereby ye are sealed." Eph. 4:30.

First. The Holy Spirit Seals Us. The seals of the Caesars had the image of Caesar on them. When the Holy Spirit seals us we look like Jesus. When you do a Christ-like thing the seal of the Holy Spirit is on you.

Who owns you? Somebody is your boss.

"Ye are bought with a price, ye are not your own." We belong to Jesus. Do we know it? "The Spirit beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God." We need no priests to tell us that.

The Holy Spirit Seals Us. "Holds you in the hollow of His hands." In nature there are two processes, integration and disintegration, the one building up and the other tearing down. There are many illustrations in history. Is our art superior to that of the Greeks? I doubt whether we are the equals of the ancient Egyptians.

The Holy Spirit is never present when ethics are doubtful. Homes flying to pieces, churches flying to pieces.

Streets Piled High with Wreckage

This picture shows the damage caused by the great Italian earthquake in Melfi, Italy, one of the cities hardest hit in the great disaster. Faster methods of transportation yet devised were used to rush this picture to The Evening Telegraph. The picture was flown in a special airplane chartered by NEA Service to Cherbourg, France, where it was placed aboard the trans-Atlantic record-breaking liner, Bremen. The ship-to-shore airmail service was used to rush the picture to New York City where it was transmitted by telephoto.

cs. The unity of the Bible is the unity of having Jesus. Governments are flying to pieces. Are you smug Americans sure of your government? Among certain circles in schools not learning but society is the chief concern. "God is in society reconciling the world unto Himself. Without me ye can do nothing." The Holy Spirit holds people together. I never saw a Church that made itself a soup kitchen or a theater that held together very long.

When the Seal is Broken Grace and Power is given. I prayed that God would spare me the pain of seeing my father die. But when he died Grace was given me to hold his head on my arm as he went home. Herbert Hoover has every organization of evil against him. But he is an orthodox Quaker who believes in the Inner Light—the Holy Ghost. Taught by his faithful mother he knows the power of the Holy Spirit and that it is "Not by power nor by might, but my Spirit, saith the Lord of hosts." Jesus came to save the world and He is going to do it.

In the evening Dr. Bartholow spoke on "The Three Crowns of Jesus." Rev. 19:12. Very interestingly he spoke of the Crown of Authority, the Crown of Life, the Crown of Victory and the Crown of Thorns. "The World is not the survival of the fittest but the sacrifice of the best." In the last the soldiers were the best men physically. Is the poor sinner that broke his mother's heart better than she? No. God is love—he suffered in his Jesus. You can never have the full Christian life without the crown of thorns. The passport to the throne of Jesus is trouble, sorrow, heart ache, loneliness, pain. The King crowned with thorns knows all about it. Walk in.

Oldsmobile is so easy to handle—both in traffic and on the highway—that it's hard to realize when you're driving, just what a big, comfortable, roomy car this is. In the first place, all controls are exceptionally convenient and easy to reach. Steering may be done with the fingertips. Clutch and brakes respond instantly. Gear-shifting is smooth and silent. And a touch on the accelerator means immediate action. These things, combined with the restfulness of Oldsmobile's Fisher bodies, give driving comfort of the finest sort. Come in and see this car. Drive it yourself. You will find it a real pleasure.
